

MSU Faculty Development and Office of Sponsored Programs Faculty Workshop

Tips for Writing NIH Grants

Are you looking for strategies to increase your likelihood of becoming an NIH grant award winner?

Join us for a panel discussion with three such winners to hear their tips for successful grant writing for the National Institutes of Health.

Office of Sponsored Programs director Sandy Sward will also be on hand to review the steps involved in the proposal submission process. Sandy and the panel will accept questions from the audience at the conclusion of the session.

Panel members:

- Edward Dratz, professor, Dept. of Chemistry & Biochemistry
- David Eitle, associate professor, Dept. of Sociology & Anthropology
- Jessi Smith, associate professor, Dept. of Psychology

Moderated by Sue Monahan, associate dean, College of Letters & Science, and Marilyn Lockhart, interim director of Faculty Development

Coming March 2nd:

Tips for Writing NSF Grants

Watch your email box for information on this session!

Tuesday, Feb. 14, 2012

SUB Ballroom D

Soup & salad served: 11:45 a.m.

Discussion: 12:00-1:00 p.m.

Please RSVP to annea@montana.edu by Friday, Feb. 10, 2012 and indicate your level of familiarity with NIH grants.

This session will be video recorded and posted within a week following the event at the Faculty Development website events page.

