

ROUGH CUT SCIENCE

OCTOBER 1

BYKER AUDITORIUM,
12 PM

Hidden patterns, wild places: Quantitative methods at work in wildlife research

Dr. Sarah Bassing, Assistant Professor in Ecology

OCTOBER 15

BYKER
AUDITORIUM,
12 PM

Managing bison as wildlife: challenges and opportunities in Montana's changing landscapes

Dr. Madison Stevens, Assistant Professor in Earth Sciences

OCTOBER 29

BYKER
AUDITORIUM,
12 PM

Land-atmosphere exchange of water and nutrients in the western USA

Dr. John Knowles, Assistant Professor in Land Resources and Environmental Sciences

NOVEMBER 5

ALUMNI
FOUNDATION
GREAT ROOM,
3:45 PM

Approaches to support child health in rural and Indigenous communities

Dr. Emily Tomayko, Assistant Professor in Food Systems, Nutrition, and Kinesiology

NOVEMBER 12

ALUMNI
FOUNDATION
GREAT ROOM,
12 PM

Chasing global change, catastrophe, and critical mineral concentration in the geologic record

Dr. Zachary Burton, Assistant Professor in
Earth Sciences

This seminar series is hosted by the Montana State University Institute on Ecosystems. This fall we are highlighting new faculty working on socio-ecological systems. Join us to learn more about current research, explore interdisciplinary connections, and network with colleagues.

WEBEX LINK

Meeting number: 2349 766 7490
Password: Tg8sSmfwR63

www.montana.edu/ioe/